I don't agree with the big way of doing things.... love starts with an individual.
 I never look at the masses as my responsibility.
 I look at the individual.
 I can only love one person at a time.
 I can feed only one person at a time.
 I know that my work is only a drop in an ocean, but if I didn't put that drop in, the ocean would be one drop less.

COLTEN'S CORNER

This is a poem I wrote as I began to become more and more in love with the Scriptures. I began to realize that my love for the Scriptures really changed my prayer life. It both challenged me and lifted me up. It also called me to go beyond myself and to never cease turning my prayer life into the source of my daily actions.

Your Word is lamp for my steps
A guide for my path
And in its greatness
It still more than that

For when the Word goes to the toes of my feet

It reveals those things hidden in me That man ought never to speak of so highly

Every time I take them in It's like a breath of fresh air
O! How brilliant
It is everywhere

For again I breathe in it lingers into my lungs and my heart can't help but let it be sung the beautiful Psalms while my palms are open for my soul is steadily hoping;
I know eternal life that is approaching

For Jeremiah made loud his statement That he found your words and ate them bringing joy and delight bearing in their utter simplicity a profound and powerful might Ezekiel exclaimed them to be like honey yet bitter as they settled down into the tummy.

The fresh news of God's goodness,
How it brings sweet joy to the heart!
But the challenges of discipleship
How difficult they art.

Yes, joys and sorrows accompany this life
This life for which Christ endured such strife.

Yet rose again
Able to stand
To declare the true life that waits
Every faithful lady and man.

Gently, humbly I approach the Sacred Word
They that come from your lips
For my soul longs to hear and feel your radical goodness

To take in such love
there is one thing to be done:
Let the words which shown on my feet
Consume every part of me Become action; become mercy to every face in need
